DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the system having 2 thermal switches or a thermal switch which can change the shape of the contact area must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Art Unit: 3744

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-4,6,7,11-17,19,21,24-28 and 30-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morrison (2,830,444) in view of Isham (3,006,611).

Morrison discloses applicant's basic inventive concept, a motor vehicle with a cryogenic tank with means to control the transmission of heat between an inner and outer container which comprise the tank, substantially as claimed with the exception of controlling the conduction of heat by moving parts connected to the inner and outer container electromagnetically to control the heat transfer between the inner and outer containers to cool the inner tank. Isham shows this feature to be old in the cryogenic heat transfer art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention from the teaching of Isham to modify the cryogenic tank of Morrison by using parts which are electromagnetically movable to control the conduction of heat to control the conditions in the tank. In regard to claims 6 and 19, it is noted that the inner and outer containers and the flanges of Morrison exchange heat, so they are seen as heat exchangers. In regard to claims 12 and 25, it is noted that there are many conduction paths in Isham, so a second thermal bridge is seen as obvious.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5,8-10,18,20,22,23 and 29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hnilicka, Kuriyama et al, Eacobacci et al, Sheppard et al, Spivey et al and Shoenman show cryogenic tanks with means to control heat transfer between inner and outer walls.
